

Mitochondria

Mitochondria

- small oval or sausage shaped organelles
- aerobic respiration $\Rightarrow$ occurs in mitochondria
- during aerobic respiration $\Rightarrow$ food substances are broken down to release energy
- this energy may be used for cell respiration $\Rightarrow$ to perform cell activities $\Rightarrow$ such as growth and respiration

