

Economic Challenges in Japan

Although Japan's economy -> had made remarkable advanced in early 1900s -> it had tendency to swing from periods of boom to period of recession.

Japans economy -> Prospered -> in 1914-1918 -> because many European powers -> were involved in WW1.

without competition from these European Countries -> Japan was able to export more of its products.

eg: overseas sales -> of Japanese cotton cloth -> rose by 185%.

After war ended -> Japan began to face economic problems.

early 1920s -> there was severe inflation -> made goods very expensive.

Eg: Price of rice increased by 174%.

to make matters worse -> there was high unemployment.

due to decline in overseas demand for Japanese goods -> large companies dismissed thousands of workers.

these economic problems -> resulted in growing resentment among Japanese towards the civilian government.

on top of everything else -> Japan was hit by a massive earthquake in 1923 -> which devastated much of Tokyo -> led to loss of lives and increased the economic hardships for the people.
