

Fear of Communism

with increasing unemployment -> many workers were attracted to messages by communist agitators - who criticized the state or called for revolution.

although communist appealed to some workers - Japanese communist party was very small and never took root in japan.

stil -> govt feared threat of communism -> esp. since USSR was geographically close to Japan and shared borders with Japanese territories in Korea and Manchuria.