

Growing Distrust in the Government

Effects of great depression + existing economic problems -> led many to believe that civilian govt cared only about elites -> banks, landowners, zaibatsu.

-> strong feeling of distrust among Japanese who believed that the civilian politicians were either in cahoots with zaibatsu or were receiving money and benefits from them.