

Assassinations

- November 1930 -> right wing fanatic shot PM Hamaguchi Osachi -> who succumbed to his wounds eventually.
- Feb 1932 > League of Blood murdered former finance minister.
- in following month -> League assassinated the head of the Mitsui corporation - which was a zaibatsu.

these assassinations - had several effects;

- They intimidated civilian politicians + caused them to drop their opposition to the military
 - also created a sense of instability, which military exploited to restore order.
-